PODOR OF SEATTLE'S MERCHANTS-SURVIVOR OF THE SAMOAN DISASTER AT MARE ISLAND-WELL-KNOWN COURT CASES.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] San Francisco, June 8 .- After several years of litigation and an expense of many thousands, the fraudulent Chinese certificate cases came to an end this week with the patty sentence of one of the half-dozen conspirators to thirty days in Alameda jail and a fine of $1,000. Hinz, the only man punished, was the least guilty of the gang, and the only one who did not belong to the Custom House force. Their plan was to sell return Chinese certificates which ought to have been cancelled, and thus defeat the provisions of the Exclusion Act. It is estimated that the gang made $200,000, as the certificates sold as high as $100 each. Boyd, one of the leaders, turned State's evidence, but his testimony proved so weak on the stand that his associates could not be convicted. Boyd is the tellow who gained local notoriety by taking a $1,500 bath in champagne at the Cliff House.

The losses by the great fire at Seattle fail heavlly upon San Francisco insurance companies. It estimated that nearly two millions were held here by agencies of American and foreign companies, while a quarter of a million was held by companies not represented in San Francisco. Although this fire is a serious blow to Scattle, it is not believed that it will cripple that enterprising city. The merchants showed the stuff they are made of yesterday when they voted to rebuild with brick and stone, and to send a fund of $5,000 raised for the Johnstown sufferers to its original destination. This exhibition of pluck assures them generous help from Calfornia and the Coast, which admires nothing so much as courage in the face of great losses.

There is much dissatisfaction at Mare Island over the orders of Secretary Tracy, detailing officers from the wrecked Vandalia and Trenton to sea duty. Of course, technically, all officers and men who survived the disaster are liable to serve out their cruises so untimely cut short, but when it is remembered that these officers lost everything and have endured much hardship it seems harsh not to allow them to go East as they petitioned. There are scores of naval officers rusticating here and at Mare Island who could easily be spared for sea service, but these shore sailors have a "pull," and so continue to occupy a soft berth. A banquet was given to Lieutenant J. W. Carlin, one of the heroes of the great disaster in Samoa, by the Bohemian Club. The room was beautifully decorated with naval emblems and flags. Lieutenant Carlin told again the salient incidents of the terrible storm. He eulogized Admiral Kimberly and Captain Schoonmaker, and paid a warm tribute to Harry Lyon, Lieutenant J. C. Wilson and others, In private talk Lieutenant Carlin praised the conduct of J. P. Dunning, the Associated Press correspondent, who sent the brilliant account of the wreck. He declared that although Dunning spent the whole time on the beach during the gale, and did more to save the lives of those washed upon shore than any other man, yet Dunsing said not a word of this in his letter, nor has any one in the Navy recognized his valuable aid. The Mercantile Library Association has voted not to consolidate with the Mechanics' Institute Library, but it is apparently doing nothing in the way of removal to a better site uptown. The present library building, which was constructed from the proceeds of a public lottery sanctioned by the State, together with the lot, is worth about $1 50,000: This amount was said to have been offered last year, but the directors demanded $190,000, so that the pegotiations fell through. The singular action of the directors is causing a suspicion that a smell clique want to wind up the affairs of the library and divide the proceeds, as was done in the Dushaway Temperance Association. Meanwhile the Free Public Library directors demand the Meroantile Library books, if the latter library goes out of existence, on the ground that this valuable colletion should not go to a private corporation. Judge Sullivan's firm stand in denying Federal Judge Sullivan's firm stand in denying Federal jurisdiction in the application for a receiver of the Sharon estate shows that litigation over this celebrated case has only fairly begun. The Terrys are still full of fight, despite the recent Supreme Court decision against them.

Another famous case which was revived this week is that of Mrs. Colton, against Emil and Stanford and other members of the South Sea Company. Argument was heard before the State Supreme Court on appeal from the judgment and order of lower court denying plaintiff's motion for non-trial. It will be remembered that Mrs. Colton succeptor a larger sum than the railroad managers gave, her after her husband's death, and her suit was founded mainly on the allegation that the defendants had misrepresented the value of their property, and the interest of General Colton in it. The case, by agreement, was heard by Judge Temple, and decided by him against Mrs. Colton. He also refused her appeal for a new trial, and on this denial of an appeal the present hearing is founded.

COLUMBIA STUDENTS' SKILL IN ARCHITECTURE. The students of the department of architecture of Columbia College are giving a pleasing exhibition of their work at the college this week. Some fine examples of historical Gothic architecture, together with problems of a design for a Masonic temple, a palatial stalrease and window, and an iron gate of fixed dimensions in which no cast iron is to be used, show the skill of the young architects. One of the most interesting features of the collection was obtained in this way: To each student was given a photograph of some piece of architecture. From the photograph he wrote a description as accurately as possible. students then exchanged descriptions, and from them, students then exchanged descriptions, and from them, without having seen the photograph, iried to produce the original. The results were excellent in many cases. Some fine work with water colors and pen and ink was shown, together with interesting free-hand drawings. The cahibition will be open for two or three days longer. The committee in charge is James W. Cromwell, jr., George Provost, Samuel W. Andrews, Jr., Robert D. Kohn and George O. Totten, jr.

REGIMENTS READY FOR CAMP DUTY.

NEW REGULATIONS - RECRUITING PRIZES

CREEDMOOR PRACTICE. The 7th Regiment is ready for its tour of camp duty which will begin on June 22 and continue for a week. Colonel Clark will be in command, and his resignation will not be accepted until the return of the regiment to the city. A valuable testimonial will be presented to him by the officers of the regiment on his retirement. The 71st Regiment, Colonel Frederick Kopper, will re Heve the 7th at the State Camp on June 29. Lieutenant Keck, of Company C, has been detailed to as Major William V. King, of the 22d Regiment, received a fracture of the right arm, caused by the of his horse in the parade on the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of the new armory on May 30.

The time for the competition for the regimental recruiting in the 22d Regiment has expired. The returns from the several companies are not all in. cording to the present returns, Company F, Captain . A. Du Bois, is far in the lead. The Tribune prophesied months ago that Company F. would be the winner. The class of young men admitted to its ranks, and the hard work of its officers, account for its excellent standing. The surgeon and assistant surgeon, Major W. R. Pryor and Captain A. T. Weston, have offered an elegant prize for shooting, to be competed for by company teams of four, at Creedm the coming season.

The committee on excursion and clambake of Company I, 22d Regiment, is sparing no efforts toward making it a pleasant affair. It is to take place on regiment.

The 224 Regiment is getting out a new and complete book on guard duty, and will issue it next week so that every member may be well versed in all the deislons that have been made in the last two or three years. This regiment has always made an exceptional howing in guard duties in previous years in camp, and will be thoroughly prepared this season, as usual, to compete with other organizations at the State camp. G. Henry Withhaus, he says:

It becomes the sad duly of the commanding officer transounce to the regiment the sudden death of Capitals G. Henry Withhaus, which occurred at his residence Deoration Day, May 30, 1889. In his death the 9th Regiment loses one of its stanchest friends and supporters, and the National Guard of the State one of its ablest and most efficient officers. His military record dates from November 1, 1877, at which period he joined Company B. 9th Regiment, as a private. March 1, 1879, he was B, 9th Regiment, as a private. March i, 1879, he was appeliated rifle inspector, serving continuously as such until June 4, 1889, when he resigned on account of a serious illness, which he feared would incapacitate him for further duty, and at the request of his immediate commanding officer his name was placed on the supernumerary list. Hispidly his fears concerning his restoration to health were groundless, and on his recovery his love of the service and affection for his regiment constrained him apply for active duty, and again at the request of the regimental commander he was so sesigned, pursuant to No. 4, series of 1887, from General Headquarters. is devotion to duty was always conspicuous; al usagements were made subscribint to the demands of the openination, and the careful attention he paid to the excution of orders entrusted to him, and his fidelity in completed another prosperous year of its educational work. The commencement week began last Thursday when a reception was given by Vice Chancellor Henry M. MacCracken to the graduating class. This evening the Rev. Dr. MacCracken will preach the baccalaureste sermon in the University Place Church at Tenth-st., on " The Bible as a Book of Ethics for Educated Men." On Monday evening in the college chapel the Phi Beta Kappa oration will be delivered by Dr. Borden P. Bowne, of Boston University, on "Some Mistakes Respecting Evolution." The following evening the class day exercises will take place in Association Hall. Thursday evening the fifty-eighth annual comnencoment exercises of the university will be held at the Metropolitan Opera House. L. Wolfe, of Montelair, N. will deliver the valedictory, and J. G. Cramer the salutatory. The English salutatory will be given by T. Brown; the philosophical oration by J. O McKelby, the scientific oration by W. Davison, and other orations by Winthrop Gates, J. N. Atkinson, B. D. Eisler, J. J. Finn, J. C. Justin, G. G. Seibert and I. Freeborn. One-third of the graduating class are of clergymen.

Priday the alumni association will hold its On Friday the alimni association will note its annual meeting. During the last year between forty and fifty thousand dollars has been paid into the University, and in consequence of this many improvements will be made. Dr. MacCracken will spend the summer at Pine Hill. In the Catskills, where he has purchased eighty acres adjoining the eighty acres belonging to the Rev. Dr. Howard Crosby. The candidates for admission are under examination in the university this week. The prospect is that the class well number about fifty. didates for admission are university this week. The p will number about fifty.

TO PRESENT A NEW SEASIDE SPECTACLE.

Work is being rapidly pushed at the Pyrotechnic Amphitheatre at Manhattan Beach on the preparations for Pain's new spectacle. "The Last Days of Pompeli," which will be seen for the first time on June 15. The tage will show the city before the eruption of Vesurius, and the exhibition will close with a reproduction of the estastrophs. Four hundred people will, it is said, be engaged in the representation. These will include ballet, shows, acrobats. Jugglers, and soldiers.

TO REST FROM LABOR.

PASTORS AND PEOPLE TO SEPARATE!

THE SUMMER VACATION NEAR AT HAND-WHERE SOME OF THE PREACHERS WILL GO THIS YEAR - CHURCHES THAT WILL

NOT BE CLOSED. "Few men realize the amount of care and worry that is attendant upon a pastor of a great city church," said a well-known New-York clergyman to a Tribune reporter a few days ago. It is a fact, however, that the people of this city are becoming more and more considerate for their ministers year by year, and one way in which this is shown is the growing popularity vacation during the heat of summer The beneficial results to both pastor and people, when in the fall the minister returns to his charge refreshed n mind and body, his love for his people doubtless increased by their consideration for him, have proved

This year the number who will go abroad is, apparently, not so large as last year; but the United states will be pretty thoroughly visited by many clergymen. The mountains will claim some, while others prefer the lakes or the seaside. Some will go o secluded nooks for rest, while the diversions of the fashionable watering places will be enjoyed by many. Canada will be visited, and benefited doubtiess, by a few. The following facts have been learned by a Tribune reporter: PRESBYTERIANS SEEK A CHANGE.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Thompson, of the Madison Avenue Church, expect to sall for Europe on the City of New-York on June 26, for a tour of France. Switzerland and Italy. Dr. Thompson will attend the di-centennial of the Waldensian Church, in the Piedont Valley, as a delegate from the General Assembly. His church will be closed in July and August, but there will be preaching every Sunday in the Good Will Chapel, in East Fifty-first-st.

Dr. Howard Crosby, whose church (the Fourthave.) was honored by the meeting of the General Assembly this year, will spend his summer, as usual, at Pine IIII, in the Catskills. The Rev. Dr. Elliott will occupy his pulpit until July, and the church will be closed during July and August. Dr. Crosby expeets to leave the city this week.

Dr. C. H. Parkhurst, of the Madison Square Church, will spend the summer in Europe, sailing on the Britannic on Tuesday. The church will be closed in Dr. Van Dyke, of the Brick Church, writes: "I have taken a cottage at West Hampton, and will spend the summer there with my family. My church will be pen all summer, except one Sunday, when it will be ecessarily closed for eleaning. I expect to preach here until July 6. After that the pulpit will be ocupled by Dr. James McLeod, Dr. W. C. Roberts and The West Church (Dr. Paxton's) and the Thurch of the Covenant (Dr. McIlvain) will unite with the Brick Church in supporting these services. Everybody who wants to come will be cordially welcomed shall be within reach during July and August for cessary pastoral services."

Dr. Charles S. Robinson, the paster of the Eightysixth Street Church, will be absent from the city through July and August. The church will be kept open all summer, the pulpit being supplied by the Rev. A. D. Wolfe. Dr. Robinson will spend a portion of the time at Chautauqua, where he is to fill an appointment in he programme, and will preach in Rochester during July, and in Utica in August. He expects to return to his charge for the first Sunday in September. Dr. R. R. Booth, pastor of Rutgers Riverside Church, said: "It is impossible for me to answer your question, save by saying that I have no plans for the summer, but will probably remain in the city most of the time, and will occupy the pulpit of our chape. We are pushing forward our church building, and I hope to have it ready for worship by October 15.* SERVICES IN OTHER CHURCHES.

Dr. R. S. MacArthur, of the Calvary Baptist Church, wrote: "I expect to be home until about the middle of July. All 50r work will go on in summer as in winter. No service will be omitted. This refers also to our Sunday-school work, both in the home school and at the branch schools, as well as the Chinese, Italian, Armenian, and other departments of our work. When I leave here for my vacation I expect to go first to my birthplace, Dalesville, Canada, north of Montreal. August, or part of it, I ex-pect to spend with my family at Martha's Vineyard, While absent, I intend to do some literary work in preparing material for a volume of sermons. Our preparing material for a volume of sermons. Our church never doses. Should it be necessary at any time to make alterations, we can worship in our chapel. We have put ourselves in opposition to the church-closting tendency of the time. For several years we have bad large congregations during the summer. My associate, the Rev. Dr. F. R. Morse, will take his vacation in June and part of July, and when I enter upon my vagation he will take entre charge of the church work."

Dr. C. De W. Heidgman expects to sail for Europe in the latter part of July, and will spend August in Heighum and Holland. The Madison Avenue Baptist Church will be open until the last Sunday in July, and then will reopen september 15. Dr. Bridgman savs: "The year has been a very successful one. Our mission work has been entarged, and the church its liberal givers.

Old Trinity Church will be open all summer, as usual. The Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix will spend the summer at Scafield, West Hampton, L. I. The Rev. Messrs Adam, Odell and Magili will preach in hts absence.

Grace Church will be open for divine service every sunday during the summer, both morning and afternoon. The order of preachers is not determined.

De Arthur Brooks said: "I do not know yet who will preach in the Church of the Incarnation when I am at Minnequa, Penn. The church will be closed during July, at which time Zion Church, three blacks distant, will be open, and our people will join that distant, will be open, and our people will join that congregation."

The Hev. Dr. William M. Taylor says: "I propose to leave here for Europe on June 19, to spend the summer there. The Broadway Tabernacle will be open all summer, but in the month of August for morning service only. No alterations will be made in the church. The pulpit will be supplied by the Rev. Dr. M. R. Vincent."

Dr. Samuel H. Virgin, the pastor of the Pilgrim Church, in One-hundred-and-tw niy-first-st., when asked in reference to his church, said: "For several years Pilgrim Church, Harlem Freshyterian Church, and the Church of the Puritans have united for worship during July and August, holding three services in each church. We do so this year: July 7, 14 and 21, in Pilgrim Church, when the Rev. U. D. Gulick will preach: July 28, August 4 and 11, in the Church of the Puritans, and August 18, 15, and September 1, in the Harlem Presbyterian Church. Our Welnesday evening prayer meetings are also union services. We have had a prosperous year in all departments of Higrim Church work, with many special gifts to make the year memerable. As usual, I shall speed my toneation with my family at our farm in West Chelmsford, Mass.

ord, Mass.

As usual, the Rev. Dr. Rederick Terry, of the South Reformed Church, will spend the summer in Newport, R. L. with his family, coming to the city in time to preach each Sunday.

AN ACTIVE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

SOME OF THE IMPORTANT SALES OF THE LAST

There was a large number of important sales at the Real Estato Exchange last week. On Tuesday the ttendance on the floor was larger than on any day since the Centennial Celebration and many properties changed hands. The most valuable parcel of the day was that offered by Richard V. Harnett, belonging to the estate of Gordon W. Burnham. It comprised three houses and a stable at Nos. 124 to 128 Fifthave., and No. 2 West Eighteenth-st., on a plot 92x 175, on the southeast corner, opposite Chickering Hall. The property was knocked down to the heirs at $424,000. There were also sales from the estates of John F. Delaplaine, F. H. Cossett and others two three story buildings at Nos. 705 and 707 Third ave., near Forty-fourth-st, 20.1x80 each, went to Daniel Mahoney at $15,400 each. Jacob Bookman. the real estate operator, bought the choicest parcel of the Delaplaine estate, No. 34 Walker-st, and No. 300 Church-st., adjoining and surrounding the north east corner. The bidding started at $50,000, and the hammer came down at $82,000. The foreclosure sale of Palmer's Theatre on Wednes day attracted much attention. One of the princ pal transactions of the week was the sale of downtown property to William Ithicalander. It consisted of Pier No. 27 and the builthead at the foot of Park Place and North River. The pier has a lease on it of twenty years, held by Mr. Burns, who has made a business of leasing water-fronts. His lease is at $18,000 a year, and he sub-lets it to the New-York Central road at $60,000 a year. The prod's lease expires in four years. The property has a frontage of about sixty feet, and is some 500 feet long and brought $405,000. On Priday a plot of 400x81.8, covering Nos. 1f4 to 142 Ganse-voort-st., extending from West-st. to Thirteenth-ave., and well built on with buildings from one to five stories high, was sold to John Sulzer, of Roselle, N. J., at $220,000, which is $6,500 over and above the encumbrances. The plaintiff, Susan R. Lawton, holds mortgages in addition of about $20,000.

In the brokers offices the sales reported were comparatively few. The conveyances for the week show a decrease in amount, while the buildings projected are about double in estimated cost compared with the corresponding week of last year. day attracted much attention. One of the princ pal tran-
